Pyrolysis Plant Not to Proceed in Lancelin

The Shire of Gingin has received advice from the Department of Lands that an application to lease Lot 11089 (Reserve 36740) Lancelin Road in Lancelin for the purpose of constructing and operating a Pyrolysis Plant has been rejected and will not proceed at this location.

The Shire received the application in May 2018 and was subsequently advertised for public comment in November.

While the Department of Lands acknowledged the proposal would bring certain economic benefits for the region, they advised the land for such a development was unsuitable and the Shire's management order for Reserve 36740 would not be varied under the Land Administration Act 1997.
