

Lancelin Foreshore Redevelopment Set to Go Ahead

The redevelopment of the Lancelin Foreshore has been a long time coming. However, Council has now taken delivery of the proposed draft plans for this exciting project which will include:

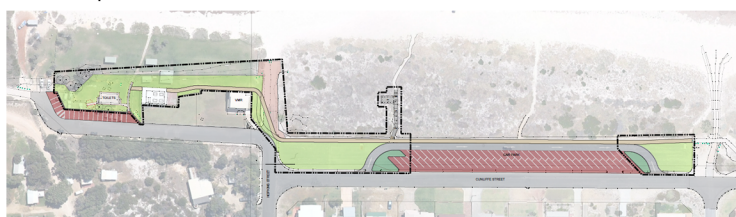

- Major upgrades to the existing car parking adjacent to Grace Darling Park and along Cunliffe St
- A new adjoining boardwalk and gazebo
- Disability access to gazebo
- Provision of increased lawn area
- Revegetation in the vicinity of Hopkins St
- New footpaths throughout the area
- Sand renourishment
- Improved Hopkins St road surface and drainage

A copy of these plans is available for public viewing on the Shire's website via the below link.

These plans are essentially the same as previous designs created after public consultation in previous years. The design has undergone several revisions during the past 4 years (given coastal erosion concerns) but with Council's decision last year to retain public access to Edward Island Point, the draft designs consequently reflect what was originally requested through public consultation.

The public is welcome to provide feedback on these draft plans up until 4pm, 28 February 2021. Please submit your feedback via the Shire's website - www.gingin.wa.gov.au/forms/feedback-lancelin-foreshore-development/29.

Following the closure of the feedback period, the draft plans will be presented to Council at a Council Meeting for formal adoption and then tenders will be invited for the construction of the Lancelin Foreshore Redevelopment.
